HAPPENING HAPPENED: ENTIRE GOVERNMENT HACKED, DOMINION COMPROMISED 4

SOMETHING STRANGE IS HAPPENING
THE LARGEST HAPPENINGS OF ALL TIME HAPPENED TODAY

QRD
>hackers broke into the networks of the Treasury and Commerce departments as part of a monthslong global cyberespionage campaign >large-scale penetration of U.S. government agencies, the Department of Homeland Security's cybersecurity arm issued an emergency directive calling on all federal civilian agencies to scour their networks for compromises >came less than a week after FireEye disclosed that foreign government hackers had broken into its network and stolen the company's own hacking tools
>The apparent conduit for the Treasury and Commerce Department hacks and the FireEye compromise is a hugely popular piece of server software called SolarWinds
>U.S. agencies should immediately disconnect or power down any machines running the impacted SolarWinds software

SO WHAT'S REALLY HAPPENING?
WHO THE FUCK IS HACKING ALL OUR COMPUTERS?
WHY ARE WE ALL RUNNING THIS GLOWIE PACKAGE ON NEARLY EVERY COMPUTER? WHO SIGNED OFF??

someone with a million IQ in XSG said
>The metaphor is too obvious, its both funny and dead serious. Cyber security company called FireEye is compromised by software called SolarWinds which is apparently an integral mutual part of the infrastructure of every proprietary company/government database you can think of. This software SolarWinds was compromised back in march (beginning of PANdaemonium) due to a vulnerability with Orion, the name of a group of software products involved in the oversight of SolarWinds. If these references arent obvious you need to ditch some more of those meds.

Order of operations.

Bodmas

You do the multiplication in an equation before the addition. So you times banana by shape first, then add all the numbers up.

In the first line the sale represents 15, (possible because that is the total number of sides of each shape) and the shape in the final line a different number of sides, so you could arguably multiply by that.

I've digressed, but order of operations is the answer to your question love

I'm calling it.

>4 years ago, it was russia hacked the election
>now the election cant be hacked, cope >biden is so low energy, only the most die-hard Trump haters would genuinley like him >we're told that he managed to get elected by the masses.

Since 2016, everyone has been against Trump, mainly because he isn't a polictitian. He was not into politics as far as I can tell until 2015 or so. It's almost robotic how everyone with an inkling of social standing is against him. Everyone woth a few ounes of power has tried to censor and bully those who support him in the name of being good.

Then there's the almost robotic news. 4 years ago they said the elections were compromised, and 3 years of investigation led to no proof.
Now, they're saying the election wasn't compromised despite there being more ways to do so with mail-in ballots, desipte some admittedly shaky but tangible evidence from Project Veritas, despite a lot of claims that Dominion was flawed, all of this much more than anything Russia related. Tell this to them and they laugh, telling you to cope. Beacuse the alternative is to consider you might be right and they dont want to admit it.

I have the feeling that in a few months, it's going to fall apart. All these inane things that are happening are either massive coincidences, or they're showing the failure of someone to cover it up. We all know that politics is corrupt, and the reason it stays that way is because we've been replacing the same parts of a machine when we needed to throw a wrench in it, and that's what Trump did. He was the wrench and now it's falling apart. You can say that he did not do enough, but why is it that everyone acts so angry as if they're terrified of him? If he was an incompetent buffon, why is he garnerimg so much hate?

I don't take this at face value. China has no incentive to go hacking when they already own Joe Biden.

A someone who might want to delete incriminating data would have incentive, or someone who wanted to get it out there that things could be hacked on a wide scale (things like elections) might.

It may or may not be (((them)))

Or maybe it's China. Maybe they know something we don't and know for a fact Joe Biden will never become president, so they want to sow chaos.

We are 41 days out from the election. The 2018 EO stipulates that he has up to 45 days to invoke the order which gives broad power to investigate election irregularities, like, say, Dominion. Remember the Frankfurt consulate story? That's much more compelling now. So is the Krebbs firing. So is shit that Powell and Rudy has been saying. So is all the reshuffling at DoD. The NSC met on Saturday about this. This may well be Trump pulling his nuclear option. Where it leads, who knows?

These arguments are retarded.
1. People didn't vote for Biden, but for not-Trump.
2. Libtards didn't attend any rally because they were scared of covid and were virtue-signalling their their "responsibility".

Trump probably won, but it was far from being a landslide. He underestimates the amount of antipathy people feel for him, and the amount of those people.

If I was a jew trying to make this the most kabbalah I would suspect solarwinds' name is based on their "sun flare" scare tactic to take down the grid.
If this is all a play, and dominion is the name of a group of angels then solarwind is the precursor to the grid going down.

The biggest red flag is that they're saying the same hacking group that hacked the DNC (Seth Rich/Wikileaks) is responsible for this hack.

In the American context it is a landslide if he got 3 million more votes than Biden, cause that gap would have led him to a crushing 400+ electoral votes. He doesn't need to have like some 10+ million gap to call it a "landslide." For us, having a slight popular vote lead and a LOT more Electoral votes is qualifying for "landslide" status.

They botnet'd every instance of Solarwinds. Doesn't matter what it used to do.
A malware injected dll was signed by a valid Symantec key (!), then pushed downstream from valid update servers. This allowed for GLOBAL admin access via and the ability to forge SAML auth-certificates for any user. Exfiltrated data to c2c via otherwise normal looking XML using file GUIDs and random hex strings.

Major providers (At&t, verizon, t-mob, etc) dropped new managed device requierments on all VARs last week and are hardening networks as we speak. Requiring devices to connect to specific APNs provides instant e to e visibility that did not exist when the sim was sold to a 3rd party and user connected to APN of their choosing.

Serious network hardening (BGP to concentrators) and accountability is being pushed from somewhere, cheap telcom faggots would not have ponied up and spent the money to enforce this as it has no bottom line impact to their revenue.
Why? IMEI to user database is now slurpable by telco from vendors where there used to be an identity gap deleniated at the VAR edge.

TLDR: Telco anonymity dissapearing for apn wizards, telco's mandating management interfaces and full visibility to VAR customers and endpoint IDM and perfmon.

That's the post.

Nukes wont do shit man MIRV's might fuck the surface up by turning the sands to glass and the population to ash but it's what's underground that's the main target. The bases are 10-15 km deep I think that's why more military training programs are being introduced for underground operations, rebreathers, oxy tanks, infrared etc.

Americans really. It was pushed out on all of us early on, our phones rely on the google account and so forth. This is, we have this faith about working in the system to change it for the better, rather than constantly throw out systems for new ones. That's obviously a foreign concept for an Eastern European to get. You guys have had every system under the sun in the last 100 years. We're slow to give up on something until its truly lost. Maybe that will explain a lot of our fierce defense of Trump, even after all seems lost.

>Or maybe it's China. Maybe they know something we don't and know for a fact Joe Biden will never become president, so they want to sow chaos.

Nice digits kek, or maybe you're right maybe its not CCP maybe it IS Russia making it look like it's the chincest's so the US flattens them. Think about it, their "friendship" is one purely of convenience. Recently Russisa's made moves AWAY from China either withholding delivery of S-400 systems/missiles/logistics, small arms sales, cancelling a training exercise, shitposting on CCP's FM Weebo about pic of some kind of holiday in Vladivostok after china started saying it was theirs. Russian Navy was also confirmed to be participating in naval exercises involving Japan, US, India, Australia, South Korea, Vietnam, France, Germany, UK, and others in the South China Sea early next year. Its the first time since 2011 joint naval drills between Russia and Nato members have been set. Russia also has shifted several divisions to the Chincest border. They also reprioritized units in the Eastern military districts for new equipment. Finally they moved 2 dozen Iskander-M short range nuclear ICBM launchers into that area.
Shrugs I dunno but I could see Putin who's been getting tired of Xi's bullshit decide to pull something along those lines. Thus getting it's two rivals to duke it out so Russia and India can swoop in and pick up the pieces afterwards. Oh btw while ceasing sales to China Russia has currently stepped up delivery of all arms sales to India.

I've always hated Republicans, since the Bush days, and I only voted Trump in 2020, I voted third party independent in 2016. Yeah, it's tiresome.
